REPLY ISSUED BY MELLON TO GOV. PINCHOT

Challenges Pennsylvania
Executive's Charge That
Law Not Enforced.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The Coolidge administration hit directly back at Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, who, it is alleged, is seeking the Republican nomination for president on the ground that the federal government has failed to enforce the dry laws.

These developments marked the break, either in the personal comment of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon or in a letter to Governor Pinchot. That Pinchot has made his campaign for enforcement of the dry laws political; that the things which Pinchot suggests should be done already are being done daily and are incorporated in the federal statutes or regulations, and that the protest of Governor Pinchot is strangely similar to and timed with a similar complaint of William G. McAdoo, presumed by the administration to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

In a letter to Governor Pinchot, replying to a communication in which Pinchot put up to Secretary Mellon personal responsibility for prohibition infractions and outlining ways in which the law might be enforced, the secretary said that Pinchot was not familiar with the law.

Both at the white house and the treasury department it was admitted for the first time that anything that is regarded as an open declaration of Pinchot for the Republican nomination would be combatted in kind. It marked, it was stated, definite alignment of Secretary Mellon on the side of Coolidge as arrayed against Pinchot.

In his letter Secretary Mellon said: "You say that you are endeavoring to enforce the law in the state of Pennsylvania, but that you are handicapped by the fact that the federal government is not endeavoring to enforce it. I do not question your faithful efforts in that behalf, but your statement that this department is not endeavoring to enforce it also is gratuitous and not founded in fact.

"You state that 'plants,' meaning breweries and alcohol distilleries, are detected in violation of the law, but are continuing to operate under federal permit. This is not true.

"You ask whether I will issue instructions to suspend at once, after a hearing, the permits of alcohol plants and breweries upon information furnished by sworn officers of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You are advised that this department will in the future, which it has always in the past, make seizures on the findings of your officers, or upon information from any other sources, provided only that it is sufficient to warrant action."

GOVERNOR DENIES WATKINS' CHARGES

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—An immediate and flat denial was Governor Donahay's answer, late yesterday, to a charge by James A. Watkins, removed chief of police of Youngstown that he was "kian controlled."

The Governor branded Watkins' statement as "cheap politics."

"I removed Mr. Watkins on evidence submitted. He had a fair trial and I have not changed my opinion one iota since that day. That I am controlled by the Klan is absolutely false," the governor declared.

SEPARATISTS PRINTING MONEY

Berlin, Oct. 30.—The French authorities are reported to have proclaimed a state of siege at Duesseldorf for the hours between 6 p. m. and 8 a. m. Bingen was occupied by the separatists. The new separatist authorities at Treves began the printing of emergency money for the new Rhineland republic.

STOLEN BOY IS RECOVERED BY ACCIDENT AFTER SIX YEARS ABSENCE FROM HOME

Andrew and Gertrude Griffin.

Kidnaped six years ago, Andrew Griffin, 14, of Rockland, Me. has been restored to his mother by an odd freak of chance. His kidnapers are facing prosecution. A small boy walked into Mrs. Griffin's store in Rockland a few days ago, to buy some candy. Although it was raining, his companion stayed outside. Mrs. Griffin took the shy boy and washed him up. He was so startling like her kidnaped son she took him into the living room of her home where he instantly recognized a photograph of his father. He said he had been kidnaped onto a boat by a man who had previously asked his mother for permission to adopt him. He was sent to Bangor and kept by a niece of this man, but when rewards stirred up a search for the child this niece had him committed to the Maine State Reformatory, declaring he was an illegitimate child. Three years later he was released and made to do menial labor on the farm of another relative of the kidnapers in Nova Scotia. Recently this man kicked him off the farm and he has been tramp-ing around the country. He is absolutely no education. He is shown here with his sister, after the reunion.

TO INVESTIGATE LIQUOR OUTPUT OF BREWERIES

Washington, Oct. 30.—Under direct orders from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, agents of the Internal Revenue Bureau today launched a special investigation of the liquor output of all breweries and distilleries in the state of Pennsylvania, although officials of the treasury insisted that plans for this inquiry were drafted prior to the pending prohibition enforcement row between Mellon and Governor Pinchot.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—First fruits of President Coolidge's law-enforcement conference with the governors of the several states were seen here today in the action of Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe in setting aside this whole week for the hearing of injunction suits against violators of the Volstead act. More than 200 petitions for permanent injunctions sealing for one year the property used in dispensing illegal "soft drinks" were placed on the special docket.

In line with the suggestion of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty before the White House meeting Oct. 20, C. W. Middlekauff, special assistant attorney general assigned to prohibition cases in northern Illinois, has taken charge of the injunction proceedings. The recommendation of the attorney general that the injunction be used more freely against bootleggers led to the declaration of injunction week, Mr. Middlekauff said.

Disposing of the cases almost with the rapidity of police court actions, Judge Cliffe today closed more than a score of rum shops in Chicago and suburbs.

In every case the decree enjoined the use of the property for any purpose whatever for one year.

A large number of the places where the government seeks to close are the road-houses located beyond the jurisdiction of Mayor William E. Dever's sweeping police campaign within the city which already

TURN SPOTLIGHT OF BUREAU PROBE ON WILSON ADMINISTRATION

A. BONAR LAW FORMER PREMIER OF ENGLAND DIES ON TUESDAY

London, Oct. 30.—Andrew Bonar Law, former premier of England, and an outstanding figure in international politics, died early today after a long illness. He was 65 years old last month.

Bonar Law's end was peaceful. He died at 2:30 o'clock, retaining consciousness to the end. His daughter, Lady Sykes, and his son-in-law, Sir Frederick Sykes, were at the bedside.

The statesman had been in failing health for several years but his final attack of illness dates only back to last week when he was stricken with pneumonia. He suffered throat trouble complicated with heart weakness.

Although septic-pneumonia was given as the immediate cause of death, the real cause was cancer and a stroke, it was learned by International News Service this afternoon. Only the medical advisers and a few intimate friends possessed this information.

Bonar Law was forced from the British premiership last May by illness, being succeeded on May 24 by Stanley Baldwin, the present premier. The former premier's death comes as a severe blow to the Tory party and to large numbers of friends although it was not entirely unexpected. Bonar Law succeeded David Lloyd George in office under the coalition cabinet was forced out last year by the Tories.

A week ago the former premier was thought to be on the road to recovery from the constant throat trouble, which ended his career of statesmanship. A chill brought about a recurrence and symptoms of pneumonia developed. It was an attack of septic-pneumonia which proved fatal.

Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick, September 16, 1858, the son of Rev. James Law. His mother was a native of Glasgow. He was married in 1891 to Miss Annie Pitcairn of Glasgow, who died in 1920.

Two sons and two daughters were born to them. Bonar Law was educated in New Brunswick schools and later at Glasgow. He entered the iron trade and after amassing a fortune, decided to go into politics. He was parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade from 1902 to 1906, having been elected to the House of Commons on the Unionist ticket (Tory) from the Black Friars division of Glasgow in 1900.

In 1906, he was re-elected to parliament on the Unionist ticket from the Dulwich division of Camberwell, serving that constituency for four years. In 1911, he was again elected to commons from the Bootle division of Lancashire, representing that constituency seven years.

From 1911 until 1915, he was leader of the opposition in Commons. During part of 1915, and 1916 Bonar Law served as secretary of state for the colonies. In 1916, he became chancellor of the exchequer serving two years. In 1918 he was appointed lord of the privy seal but resigned. Bonar Law was a member of the British delegation to the Paris peace conference.

From 1911 until 1921, Bonar Law was leader of the Unionist party, finally relinquishing this post on account of ill health. He rendered valuable service to Great Britain as a member of the war cabinet.

DEFER DECISION IN CASE OF CLIFTON

Columbus, Oct. 30.—The state board of school examiners will announce its decision Nov. 24 on charges filed against O. B. Clifton, superintendent of Coshocton schools, by E. W. Cresap, former principal at Coshocton. In filing charges of false certification of high schools credits, financial irregularity and immorality, Cresap asked the revocation of Clifton's life teaching certificate. The charges were heard by the board last week.

SOLDIERS DISPOSE RED GOVERNMENT STARTED IN SAXONY

Berlin, Oct. 30.—With the mailed fist of military force wielded by Dictator Stresemann, the so-called "red" Saxon government, headed by Premier Zeigner, was deposed in Dresden.

Following Zeigner's refusal to "get out" with his official family of socialists and communists, a detachment of soldiers, headed by several officers, appeared at the ministry building and politely escorted the cabinet ministers outside and told them not to return.

Dr. Rudolph Heinze, who was vice chancellor under the Pehrenbach cabinet and minister of justice under Dr. William Cuno, was installed as a sort of "sub-dictator," responsible directly to Stresemann. The Saxon parliament building was surrounded by reichswehr soldiers, with machine guns commanding all approaches. This action was meant to prevent the Saxon parliament from meeting.

Premier Zeigner sent an emissary to Berlin to make three demands: That the reichstag be convened immediately; that Stresemann call at once another conference of the premiers of all German states, and that the supreme court at Leipzig be asked to decide the conflict between Dresden and Berlin.

With more than half of the German reichswehr army in Saxony, the situation there is well in hand, although the executive bodies of Saxon organized labor will meet to determine whether or not to answer the application of "might and force" with a general strike.

There is a different situation in Bavaria. Authoritative government sources in Berlin gave out the sensational information that a far-reaching conspiracy was uncovered to proclaim in Munich a new national government. It was declared that contact had been established with East Prussia, Silesia and Pomerania for those sections to announce their allegiance to the Munich instead of the Berlin government. The discovery of this alleged plot, it is officially stated, was what caused Stresemann to so unexpectedly send ultimatums to Saxony and Bavaria.

Dictator Stresemann said he proposed to enforce the authority of the central government against Bavaria just as he has against Saxony, but that as the Bavarian situation is more difficult, it will require more time and consideration.

HUERTA DENIES CHARGES

Dublin, Oct. 30.—The Free State government is contemplating the deportation of Jim Larkin, the labor agitator, who returned to Ireland when released from prison in America. KILLED WHILE CELEBRATING VICTORY

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 30.—One soldier was killed and several wounded when shells prematurely exploded as guns were being loaded at Fort Clarence to celebrate the victory of the Bluesnoses, the Canadian defender in the first race of the international fishermen's series. The Bluesnoses proved the better ship in a light breeze and a moderate sea when it defeated the Gloucesterman Columbia by 1 minute and 20 seconds.

CHARGE FORBES ATTEMPTED TO SELL NARCOTICS

Witness Makes Accusation
During Hearing of Serious Charges.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Senatorial investigators of the United States Veterans' Bureau delved into history today, in their quest for further evidence of waste, mismanagement and corruption in the conduct of the bureau.

Turning away, temporarily, from investigation of the acts of Charles R. Forbes, director of the bureau, under the Harding administration, the committee turned the spotlight today on some of the transactions negotiated in the closing days of the Wilson administration.

The deal the committee was particularly curious about, was the one in which E. L. Morse, Missouri political leader, sold the government a hospital site at Excelsior Springs, Mo., under a peculiar form of contract. The Public Health Service condemned this transaction, but notwithstanding this the purchase price was later increased $13,000.

An air of mystery was added to the case when it was revealed that some important documents concerning it, have disappeared from the government's files. The missing documents include the government's copy of the contract, written in the form of a "letter of agreement," signed by Morse and Former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ewing Le Porte, in charge of war risk insurance. Instead, investigators found a paper, purported to be signed by Morse, which showed a $13,000 variation in the purchase price originally agreed upon and the one finally written into the contract.

Testimony already before the committee shows that former Secretary of the Treasury Houston approved the deal as one of his last official acts. The negotiations, however, were carried on through Le Porte.

Morse was scheduled to take the stand today to relate his part in the transaction.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The direct charge that Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, sought an accomplice in disposing of surplus narcotic drugs and liquors was made before the senate committee investigating the veterans' bureau.

This accusation was made by James M. Williams of Philadelphia in the midst of a series of sensational disclosures purporting to involve the former director. Williams is president of Turner & West, Inc., a creamery and ice cream manufacturing concern.

Among the other allegations in his testimony were: That Forbes had threatened strong arm methods to get rid of Elias H. Mortimer, who testified before the committee last week that the former director had been guilty of graft and corruption in the letting of hospital contracts, and had told him they could "clean up" on narcotics, and that Forbes and his secretary, M. L. Sweet, and Sid Bieber, a close friend, had made several trips to Williams' home in an effort to get certain papers in possession of Mrs. Mortimer. The papers, Williams said he understood, had been turned over to Mrs. Mortimer by her husband for safekeeping and she had asked Mrs. Williams to lock them up.

The proposition regarding the removal of narcotic drugs and liquors from the veterans' bureau hospital at Perryville, Md., was made, Williams testified, after an evening of continuous talk about these surplus supplies. Forbes, he said, had asked him if he could not supply milk and cream to the Perryville institution, 15 miles away, and inquired how many trucks Williams' company had. Williams testified that he replied that his concern had eight trucks, but they could not take the contract.

Forbes, the witness continued, then explained there "were a great many broken packages" at Perryville, "and I might make it interesting for you." He added that just then "the door opened and nothing further was said." Williams asserted that he had not even considered the alleged offer.

Under questioning by members of the committee the witness added that Forbes' alleged offer was to make it interesting for him in getting split packages out of the Perryville reservation.

The proposal was made, according to Williams, a day or two prior to Sept. 20, 1922. About a month previous, he said, he had heard Forbes discuss narcotics and liquors with a druggist named Hogshead at Staunton, Va., whom Williams was visiting. Mortimer last week testified to the same conversation.

Foodstuffs were seized and distributed. Loyalist editors were arrested.

Schwerin, Germany, Oct. 30.—An attempt was made here today to blow up the reichswehr barracks.

Worms, Germany, Oct. 30.—This city joined the Rhineland republic today.

Worms is in Hesse, 26 miles south of Mayence.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. adv

YOU'VE discovered, no doubt, that the best thing you do for yourself, is something you do for others

We've discovered that in business: the best way for us to make this business grow, to make it more profitable, is to make it serve the public

We know what men want in things to wear; we know where to get them, what they cost, what they're worth to you. Knowing these things, all we have to do is to get such things, mark them at fair prices, and guarantee your satisfaction

It seems simple, doesn't it? It is. A business conducted on such a basis ought to prosper, grow large, make money. Visit our enlarged work clothes department in rear of store.

COUNTRY CLUB MASQUE MONDAY LARGE SUCCESS

Probably the most enjoyable of the large list of Hallowe'en social affairs, was the masquerade at the Country Club, Monday night. Between one hundred and one hundred and fifty guests enjoyed the function, which was outstanding in revelry among the club parties. The club rooms were beautifully decorated in the usual Hallowe'en favors, black cats and witches predominating.

Cliff Perrine's orchestra of Dayton, furnished excellent music for the evening. Fortune-telling was among the novel features. The dancing opened with a grand march, after which the guests unmasked. Judges were stationed about the room, to choose the best costumes of the evening. Dr. P. D. Espey won the gentlemen's prize for the most effective costume, as a colonial gentleman, while Mrs. Espey carried off the women's prize, in a similar costume. Mr. P. H. Flynn as a shiek, won a men's prize for the grotesque outfit, while Mr. Findley M. Torrence carried off other honors. The men, as an exponent of the Anti Cigarette League and distributed literature among the guests. A box over his shoulder bore the name of a local tobacco dealer. Mrs. W. Crawford Craig was another prize winner as a Spanish girl. Another clever costume which won the favor of the judges was that of Mrs. C. L. Darlington as a bride.

During the dancing, an old fashioned two-step was held, won by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, who were presented a prize. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Davidson won the prize in the old-fashioned waltz. A Hallowe'en supper was served at a late hour.

The committee in charge of the masque, headed by Mrs. R. J. Kelly, consisted of Mrs. John Charles Dadds, Mrs. Robert Arthur Kelly, Mrs. Edwin M. Woodward, Mrs. W. H. Finley, Mrs. Lawrence Shields, Mrs. Paul D. Espey, Mrs. Minor W. Monroe, Mrs. William E. Eavey, Mrs. E. R. Bryant, Mrs. L. A. Parrett, Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Karl Bloom and Mrs. Charles Adair.

OUR COUNTRY ALWAYS

American form of government is recognized throughout the world as the most humanitarian, most stable and most effective of all forms.

No real cause for unrest or discontent exists. Industry is thriving at peak load and payrolls are being steadily maintained. Labor and capital in America are nearly at balance.

Americans are not blind to the ills of European nations where famine and internal strife are preventing the orderly conduct of affairs and where such conditions prevent a well balanced return to pre-war prosperity.

Americans will not brook the destructive forces from without to enter Our Country with pink and red propaganda designed to disrupt the nation and turn its affairs over to an element which knows no law—either of man or God—and destroy the initiative of a hundred and ten millions of souls.

No socialistic or communistic doctrine can successfully endure in any nation and this has been recognized in America for more than a century of orderly administration.

There is no place here for the forces of destruction.

PLEASANT READING

It is pleasant reading for us to see in the columns of the Democratic press of the state that there is a balance in the state treasury of Ohio at his time of between twenty-five to thirty million dollars.

It is especially pleasant because no one can deny that the large balance, as it exists today, constantly growing, is due to the reorganization plan of ex-Governor Harry L. Davis, the present Democratic governor's predecessor. It was at Governor Davis' instance that the Legislature passed the bill to reorganize the state's business machinery and put it upon business foundation. That was bitterly fought by the Democratic politicians and the Democratic newspapers. And memory does not have to go back very far to recall some especially interesting editorial comments attacking the Davis plan of state government.

Happily for Ohio that plan has worked better than was anticipated by its makers and Ohio is operating within her means upon a budget basis since the reorganization bill became effective for the first time in her history.

OH. FOR THE WISEST OF WISE MEN JUST NOW.

It seems providential that when the world is most upset in trouble, a wise man will arise on the scene and give such advice that in following it the clouds of darkness break away and the path of common sense appears.

It was a case in Europe when Gladstone reiterated his theory that troublesome Ireland should have "Home Rule" year after year he enunciated the wisdom of giving to this branch of his country's possessions that feature which had looked so well in their other provinces. True, the whole advantage of the wisdom of his advice did not fructify to full "public opinion" during Gladstone's life, but today the very same principle seems in full swing to give to that unstable people the most common sense they have ever manifested. Though long since gathered to the grave, the wisdom and advice of Gladstone lives.

And far be it from us to deny to Woodrow Wilson if our own beloved country the honor of the conception of the "Sixteen Pointers" which we credited with having so much to do with ending the Great War which was taking the brave young sons of ours and other nations.

All honors to Woodrow Wilson for this.

And ah, now little thought the people who lived near the cabin in Kentucky where the child Abraham Lincoln as born, that this babe was to be the savior of his country, that a stroke of his pen would make four million slaves freed-men, that from his lips would come such immortal words as his Gettysburg speech that soon millions of people would thank God for his life. Was he not God-imbued and God-raised for his great work?

And now with half the world in turmoil and no one seemingly able to speak the words to help, if our own citizen our national Secretary of State, Charles E. Hughes, has been able to suggest a possible start to bring out of disorder in Europe, we certainly will all thank God for his accomplishment, and in event of failure to attempt.

Genius is entitled to respect only when it promotes peace and improves the happiness of mankind.

Mr. Joseph Dice, the owner of the farm on which subterranean fire has been burning for some weeks past, is anxious to get up a stock company for digging gas or oil on the place.

BETTER THAN GOLD

Happiness cannot be bought. A rich man can buy a beautiful reproduction, as the artist sees some phase of nature, but all the wealth in the world could not buy one golden sunset.

We often envy the fortune of the well-to-do. But their only fortune, in its final analysis, is what they have gained in happiness. You who have but the price of one meal ahead may be far richer.

Even success is relative. We win mostly within ourselves. A beautiful spirit, glowing with thoughtfulness and unselfishness, is more glorious than the most gorgeously colored opal—and beyond all purchase.

The lovely things of the earth are free. Merely appreciate, and you have.

Put but a single flower in a vase upon your desk or table, look into its warmth of beauty and you have something that gold could never give. For a flower has soul, surely or it could not arouse the soul in us. You couldn't think quickly when looking into the face of a pansy!

Let your life be stripped of precious possessions, let chaos flare about you, let ruin and dire disaster haunt you on every side, yet if there remain to you but the loyal, true-blue friend you have better than gold or any of its equivalents.

Beauty is better than gold, kindness is better than gold, happy service is beyond all touch of gold. Gold never bought a human soul.

EXPLAINS TEACHERS' RETIREMENT PLAN TO ROTARY CLUB

A thorough explanation of the Teachers' Retirement System, and the financial functioning of the public schools of Ohio, was given by W. B. Kershner, of Columbus, before the Xenia Rotary Club, Tuesday noon.

Mr. Kershner explained the retirement fund, how four per cent of all of the teachers salaries is deducted for the fund, which they secure when they quit their profession. Teachers are retired after thirty-five years' service or at the age of sixty. The state puts in two tenths of the teachers' salaries for the fund, Mr. Kershner said. The teachers' savings and an equal amount paid by the state is paid them as a pension.

Ohio is on a good sound financial basis Mr. Kershner said. Each child should be taught some financial system in the schools in order to save them from poor investing when they grow older he declared. He compared stock selling and speculating, with gambling, and stealing. He told of the many benefits of the public school, and stated that "if the public schools were taken out of a community, seventy-five per cent of the people would be illiterate in 75 years." The public school is the best investment the public can make he said.

The next Rotary Club meeting will be held in the evening, when the wives of the members will be guests of the club at a radio concert at Antioch College.

Because of White Clay France Perfected
By Edna Wallace Hopper

Mine is a grandmother's age. I have been for 40 years a stage star. Yet I still look a girl, and I still play girlish parts.

I owe the beauty which made me famous to helps I found in France. And I owe to them my perennial youth. Now I have arranged so all who wish may get them. And I hope to bring to millions what they brought to me.

The magic of clay
Many years ago French experts taught me to use clay. Then clays were crude and muddy, as many clays are still but I was a plain girl and even those crude clays made me the rage of New York.

Since then those experts have perfected clay. They have made it white, refined and dainty. They have added factors which bring multiplied results.

The clay I now use is ten times better than the old-type clays. And my baby complexion at my age shows what it means to women.

A pity to omit it
I pity any girl or woman who does not use some clay. No girl can look her best without it no woman can keep her youth.

Clay purges the skin of all that clogs it—the causes of all sallowness, blackheads and blemishes. It keeps dead skin removed.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

GRAPES ROTTING ON VINES; NO MARKET

Sandusky, O., Oct. 30.—Tons of choicest grapes are going to waste in the vast vineyards of the Lake Erie islands region northwest of here, rotting on the vines as a result, growers say, of the lack of a market that will yield even the cost of production. Other tons have been pressed for their juice which is being held in huge casks, the owners hoping that at some future time they will be able to at least "come out even," as they say. From a financial viewpoint the harvest ending has been the most gigantic failure in the history of the whole Lake Erie section. Growers here have been unable to compete with sweeter California grapes now flooding the eastern markets.

WHY PAY FOR CONVERTIBILITY?

ANA CORP. CONVERTIBLE 7s ($112)

WHEN ALL YOU WANT IS SAFETY?

ANA CORP. 1st MORTGAGE 6s ($101)

It is a good idea in buying a bond to be sure that you are paying for what you want. Everybody doesn't want the same kind of a bond.

Let your banker or bond house know just what you want before they start recommending bonds for you. Often an investor pays for what he doesn't want.

Take for instance, convertible bonds, which usually sell for higher prices than equally safe bonds that do not carry the conversion privilege.

An example of this class is the Anaconda Mining Company fifteen year seven per cent debentures of 1933 which are convertible into common stock. Because of this feature the bonds are more attractive and sell at a higher price than equally good non-convertible issues.

But there is no reason for anyone who is looking extra for the convertibility feature on these 7s. Buy the first mortgage 6s of the same company and pay only for what you want no more.

ANGER KILLS CHILD
MIMRA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—A demonstration of how anger may produce death occurred here when Morrow Wilsey, 3 years old, dropped dead in a rage just after he had been spanked. Physicians say death was due to acute dilation of the heart caused by the child's indignation. Morrow's father paddled him in an effort to curb the boy's violent spells of temper.

LOCAL AND STATE ISSUES TO COME BEFORE ELECTORS

When Xenia City voters walk into the polls to exercise their rights as citizens Tuesday, November 6, they will be handed seven different ballots to mark.

If they should happen to live in Greene County outside of Xenia City, but not in the school districts of Yellow Springs Village, Jamestown Village or Jefferson Twp., they will be given six ballots. In those three school districts the voters will also have to mark seven ballots.

State issues to be voted on all over the county include three proposed constitutional amendments and three proposed laws, two of them by referendum and one by initiative. The amendments include one to do away with the open liability feature of the workmen's compensation law, which permits injured employees entitled to benefits from the state fund, to sue for damages. Employers' associations and labor organizations have both endorsed this change in the law.

Another amendment seeks to eliminate the words "white male" from the section of the state constitution prescribing the qualification of an elector. The enfranchisement of colored people and the granting of suffrage to women by federal authority supersedes this ancient restriction and make its retention in the Ohio constitution an anachronism and absurdity of no effect whatever.

The third amendment would permit the secretary of state to advertise through the regular channels measures to be submitted to the electorate, instead of circulating "publicity pamphlets." Secretary of State Brown urges the ratification of this amendment as an economy measure.

The Taft and Albaugh tax laws are up for referendum. The old age pension law, providing a pension for those over 65 years of age having less than $2,500, will be voted on.

In Xenia City the voters will be presented a ballot on which they will vote yes or no on an amendment to the city charter, the first ever proposed. The amendment, if passed, will eliminate the primary election now held unless the number of declared candidates is more than twice the number of vacancies to be filled on the City Commission. It is advocated as a means of reducing expense.

Voters in Xenia City must also select three city commissioners, two for a long term and one for the unexpired term of the late Mayor M. J. Hartley. S. M. McKay, at present serving Mayor Hartley's term, is unopposed for the rest of the short term. Commissioner Harry Fisher and Dr. C. G. McPherson also a commissioner, are seeking re-election for the regular long term of four years. They are opposed by Harry Sparks, also running for long term.

There are three places to fill on the Xenia City Board of Education, and there are seven candidates to be voted upon for those offices. Harry S. LeSourd and J. W. Santmyer are seeking re-election to the board, while C. H. Little, is not a candidate for re-election. The other candidates are James D. Adair, Mrs. Amanda Evans, E. S. Davidson, L. A. Wagner and Louis Clark.

One justice of the peace to be elected in Xenia Township offers the only reason for a judicial ticket this fall. J. E. Jones, present justice of the peace is a candidate for re-election and is opposed by R. O. Copsey. The regular township officers furnish the last and final ballot. Contest develops in the campaign for township clerk as a recent law eliminated the township treasurer, which position is held by J. H. McPherson. Mr. McPherson will oppose George McKee, present clerk, for that position. The three trustees will be without opposition. They are J. W. Hedges, Grant Miller and Graham Bryson.

All villages in Greene County will elect full municipal tickets in place of city commissioners, as in Xenia. They will vote for a mayor, council members, village clerk, village marshal and village assessor. Township trustees and clerks will be elected in all townships. All school districts will vote for members of the boards of education.

The entire county will vote for two members of the county board of education, but people in Xenia City will not be presented that ballot. S. H. Shawhan and J. B. Rife are candidates for re-election and are opposed by Charles Hatch and H. E. Eales.

The seventh ticket to be presented voters in the school districts of Yellow Springs and Jamestown village and Jefferson Township, are for special bond issues to be voted upon.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

THE HOPE THAT SPRINGS ETERNAL Chapter LXVI.

George Markham placed Paul's articles with a prosperous syndicate, making a very good contract. I was more than delighted. While I knew they had merit, were clever and interesting, I had no idea they would bring in so much. It was a living for us, added to the excess of our home rent over what we paid.

When I told Paul and showed him the contract signed by George Markham as his attorney and told him what the editor had said in praise of his work he just crumpled up and cried like a baby.

"It doesn't seem true, Ruby," he said when he became calm. "I don't deserve such luck. If only Joan could know!"

"She does, dear. She believed her going would help you." Then I told him of the study Laura and I had fixed up for him in our new home, a tiny room upstairs where he could have perfect quiet in which to write. "It won't be long now until you are with us," I added, "and we must not be sorrowful for Laura's sake. You will do even better work under the stimulus you have received."

I was right. Each week Paul's work improved. My old pride in him returned and felt no uneasiness in facing the future. Paul was a changed man, not only outwardly (his hair had grown gray, and there were fine lines in his face not there before his arrest) but the inward change was even greater. He was humbled. All his false pride was gone, all his egotism. George Markham visited him often encouraging him in every way, and proving his wish to be friendly, while Evelyn was often with me helping me by her belief in Paul's comeback.

When I thought of how I had flouted the advice of these two dear people, I felt ashamed, remorseful. Who was I, with my lack of knowledge of the world to set their well-meant advice aside? I had married too young, insisting upon having my own way, thinking I knew more than my parents and had reaped the result of my obstinacy—not that even now I regretted marrying Paul. I never had ceased to love him. But had I made him wait for me, prove himself, I might have saved both him and myself years of agony.

Stubborn, unthinking youth, reaching out its hands for its present desires, diluting the advice of those of experience pays and pays and pays.

One morning the paper held black headlines.

Dave Logan had been killed in a wild ride with a well-known woman of the town. He had been drinking and drove his car off an embankment. Then followed the story of his life, a story of immense wealth quickly made, of riotous living, of entanglements. Again I felt humbled. This was the man whom I had made my friend despite the warnings I received, despite my own distrust of him.

My mistakes had been many, my humiliation great. But now I, too, like Paul, was humbled. My sorrows, my great troubles had given me a different viewpoint and made me realize that in many ways I had been as culpable as Paul. I had not insisted upon my right as a wife to know of his affairs, had been too weak to be a helpmeet to the man I married. But the past was over and done with. The future belonged to us, to make it what we would in honesty of pur pose, in perfect confidence, in hope.

It is June 1923. Paul is with us. Every day he spends hours working in the little studio Laura and I prepared for him. He is quietly, but I try to think, not unhappily, retrieving the past. He seems to have lost all desire for money as money, and to think only of accomplishment, of making me and Laura comfortable, and as happy as we can be with thoughts of our lost Joan ever with us.

But Time is a kind healer. Daily we are growing more reconciled and now we plan for Laura, the child who never has been anything but a comfort, who has borne our sorrows, been the sharer of our troubles. And as I see the daily strengthening of Paul's character the feeling that some day people will forget and forgive comes over me. And I know that in some way, some how we shall achieve that elusive thing—Happiness. For at last there is perfect confidence between us, perfect faith and trust. And without this there is no happiness in marriage.

THE END

Note:—The foregoing is a true story in every important detail as told me by the "wife". Naturally, the names of character and places are changed.—Jane Phelps.

ADMINISTRATION GOES AHEAD WITH PLANS FOR INDEMNITY CONFERENCE

White House Apparently Not Disturbed By Bitter

REPLY ISSUED BY MELLON TO GOV. PINCHOT

Challenges Pennsylvania
Executive's Charge That
Law Not Enforced.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The Coolidge administration hit directly back at Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, who, it is alleged, is seeking the Republican nomination for president on the ground that the federal government has failed to enforce the dry laws.

These developments marked the break, either in the personal comment of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as an administration spokesman, or in a letter to Governor Pinchot. That Pinchot has made his campaign for enforcement of the dry laws political; that the things which Pinchot suggests should be done already are being done daily and are incorporated in the federal statutes or regulations, and that the protest of Governor Pinchot is strangely similar to and timed with a similar complaint of William G. McAdoo, presumed by the administration to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

In a letter to Governor Pinchot, replying to a communication in which Pinchot put up to Secretary Mellon personal responsibility for prohibition infractions and outlining ways in which the law might be enforced, the secretary said that Pinchot was not familiar with the law.

Both at the white house and the treasury department it was admitted for the first time that anything that is regarded as an open declaration of Pinchot for the Republican nomination would be combatted in kind. It marked, it was stated, definite alignment of Secretary Mellon on the side of Coolidge as arrayed against Pinchot.

In his letter Secretary Mellon said: "You say that you are endeavoring to enforce the law in the state of Pennsylvania, but that you are handicapped by the fact that the federal government is not endeavoring to enforce it. I do not question your faithful efforts in that behalf, but your statement that this department is not endeavoring to enforce it also is gratuitous and not founded in fact."

"You state that 'plants,' meaning breweries and alcohol distilleries, are detected in violation of the law, but are continuing to operate under federal permit. This is not true."

"You ask whether I will issue instructions to suspend at once, after a hearing, the permits of alcohol plants and breweries upon information furnished by sworn officers of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You are advised that this department will in the future, which it has always in the past, make seizures on the findings of your officers, or upon information from any other sources, provided only that it is sufficient to warrant action."

GOVERNOR DENIES WATKINS' CHARGES

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—An immediate and flat denial was Governor Donahy's answer, late yesterday, to a charge by James A. Watkins, removed chief of police of Youngstown that he was "kian controlled."

The Governor branded Watkins' statement as "cheap politics."

"I removed Mr. Watkins on evidence submitted. He had a fair trial and I have not changed my opinion one iota since that day. That I am controlled by the Klan is absolutely false," the governor declared.

SEPARATISTS PRINTING MONEY

Berlin, Oct. 30.—The French authorities are reported to have proclaimed a state of siege at Dusseldorf for the hours between 6 p. m. and 8 a. m. Bingen was occupied by the separatists. The new separatist authorities at Treves began the printing of emergency money for the new Rhineland republic.

Senate, the administration went calmly ahead today with plans of American participation in the attempted settlement of the reparations controversy.

There is little that Washington can do in the matter until the reparations commission gets together and selects the meeting place and the personnel of the commission of experts that is to investigate Germany's capacity to pay. But it was made plain both at the White House and the State Department today that senatorial attacks upon the Coolidge-Hughes policy will not change the program.

The Senate Irreconcilables, however, much as they dislike the thought of American participation in the new turn of events, are admittedly helpless to prevent it. The Senate is not in session and it is doubtful if the Senate could do anything if it were.

London, Oct. 30.—The cabinet met for an hour today again discussing reparations and plans for the proposed international conference of experts to fix Germany's capacity for indemnity payment. No communication was issued. It was learned at the foreign office that Great Britain is proceeding with conference negotiations, attempting to consent to broader terms than Premier Poincare outlined in his speech last Sunday. British officials fear that the conference will not be able to make much headway towards a final settlement, if it is restricted and cramped by France.

However, the cabinet is expected to sanction the conference even if Premier Poincare refuses to yield and sticks to his original conditions. There is more optimism than existed yesterday over the possibility of American participation.

COUZENS AND FORD MAY SPLIT; WOULD VERIFY STATEMENT

Washington, Oct. 30.—Signs of a break between Henry Ford and Senator Couzens of Michigan were evidenced by the senator after a call at the white house.

"I have sent a telegram to Detroit to Henry in an effort to get him to sign a statement that he has issued so that his responsibility for it will be fixed," said the senator. "If he does that there will be plenty of news. I will go after him right. Sometimes responsibility for these statements is denied by Mr. Ford."

The statement referred to is one that Couzens does not know what he is talking about when he advocates a change in the Volstead act, and that Mr. Ford is willing to support Coolidge for re-election provided he will properly enforce the dry law.

The automobile manufacturer said the senator is for beer and light wines for political purposes. Couzens said it is a mistake to represent him as favoring light wines. He only wants old-fashioned beer, he said. "The Volstead law can not be enforced," the senator asserted, "and if beer could be had, there would be little drinking of bootleg whisky."

MAN SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED MURDER

Wauseon, O., Oct. 30.—Said to have made confession to the effect that he killed Meek Garmon, 45, his brother-in-law, Len Gehring, 46, begged the county officials to send him to the electric chair. It is alleged he told Coroner Wright and Sheriff Ford that he realized that he was mentally unbalanced at times. With his head crushed in, the mutilated body of Garmon was found on the Meek farm, near here, with a blood-stained neck yoke and an ax at his side.

STOLEN BOY IS RECOVERED BY ACCIDENT AFTER SIX YEARS ABSENCE FROM HOME

Andrew and Gertrude Griffin.

Kidnaped six years ago, Andrew Griffin, 14, of Rockland, Me., has been restored to his mother by an odd freak of chance. His kidnapers are facing prosecution. A small boy walked into Mrs. Griffin's store in Rockland a few days ago, to buy some candy. Although it was raining, his companion stayed outside. Mrs. Griffin took the shy boy and washed him up. He was so startling like her kidnaped son she took him into the living room of her home where he instantly recognized a photograph of his father. He said he had been kidnaped onto a boat by a man who had previously asked his mother for permission to adopt him. He was sent to Bangor and kept by a niece of this man, but when rewards stirred up a search for the child this niece had him committed to the Maine State Reformatory, declaring he was an illegitimate child. Three years later he was released and made to do menial labor on the farm of another relative of the kidnaped, in Nova Scotia. Recently this man kicked him off the arm and he has been tramp around the country. He has absolutely no education. He is shown here with his sister, after the reunion.

TO INVESTIGATE LIQUOR OUTPUT OF BREWERIES

Washington, Oct. 30.—Under direct orders from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, agents of the Internal Revenue Bureau today launched a special investigation of the liquor output of all breweries and distilleries in the state of Pennsylvania, although officials of the treasury insisted that plans for this inquiry were drafted prior to the pending prohibition enforcement row between Mellon and Governor Pinchot.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—First fruits of President Coolidge's law-enforcement conference with the governors of the several states were seen here today in the action of Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe in setting aside this whole week for the hearing of injunction suits against violators of the Volstead act. More than 200 petitions for permanent injunctions seeking for one year the property used in dispensing illegal "soft drinks" were placed on the special docket.

In line with the suggestion of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty before the White House meeting Oct. 20, C. W. Middlekauff, special assistant attorney general assigned to prohibition cases in northern Illinois, has taken charge of the injunction proceedings. The recommendation of the attorney general that the injunction be used more freely against bootleggers led to the declaration of injunction week, Mr. Middlekauff said.

Disposing of the cases almost with the rapidity of police court actions, Judge Cliffe today closed more than a score of rum shops in Chicago and suburbs.

In every case the decree enjoined the use of the property for any purpose whatever for one year.

A large number of the places which the government seeks to close are the road-houses located beyond the jurisdiction of Mayor William E. Dever's sweeping police campaign within the city which already has closed more than 1000 saloons in the past three weeks.

Yesterday's results, the special prosecutor said, "give some indication of the efficiency of the method suggested by the attorney general. We have already closed more than 1000 saloons in this territory by the injunctions, and before this week is over we hope to add about 200 more. Property owners whose places are sealed by the federal court for a full year will think twice before leasing to a bootlegger."

INCREASE REWARD FOR MISSING MAN

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Where is George E. Schick, San Diego broker, missing since Feb. 7? More insistently was the question framed in the minds of Southern Californians, following the offer of $1,000 additional reward for the finding of the man dead or alive. Until a few days ago Mrs. Schick had been a prisoner in the county jail at San Diego, held under charges against her of forging the signature of her husband to a document giving her power of attorney over his estate, valued at $75,000. With her were arrested E. Drew Clarke and his wife, suspected as parties to the alleged forgery. The district attorney has plainly expressed himself as being of the opinion that Schick was murdered. Mrs. Schick, in her confession, is reported to have admitted committing the actual forgery, but that the Clarks aided and counseled to the commission of the crime.

LARKIN TO BE DEPORTED

Dublin, Oct. 30.—The Free State government is contemplating the deportation of Jim Larkin, the labor agitator, who returned to Ireland when released from prison in America. Larkin will be shipped to England. The decision to get rid of Larkin follows his attempt to organize a general strike in favor of the release of hunger striking republican prisoners.

KLAN HEARING POSTPONED

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 30.—Hearing of charges of obstructing traffic against 244 knights of the Ku Klux Klan, who were arrested Sunday, was postponed indefinitely. The klansmen were arrested while on their way to assist in the laying of the cornerstone of a new church.

KILLED WHILE CELEBRATING VICTORY

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 30.—One soldier was killed and several wounded when shells prematurely exploded as guns were being loaded at Fort Clarence to celebrate the victory of the Bluesnoses, the Canadian defender in the first race of the international fishermen's series. The Bluesnoses proved the better ship in a light breeze and a moderate sea when it defeated the Gloucesterman Columbia by 1 minute and 20 seconds.

TURN SPOTLIGHT OF BUREAU PROBE ON WILSON ADMINISTRATION

A. BONAR LAW FORMER PREMIER OF ENGLAND DIES ON TUESDAY

London, Oct. 30.—Andrew Bonar Law, former premier of England, and an outstanding figure in international politics, died early today after a long illness. He was 65 years old last month.

Bonar Law's end was peaceful. He died at 2:30 o'clock, retaining consciousness to the end. His daughter, Lady Sykes, and his son-in-law, Sir Frederick Sykes, were at the bedside.

The statesman had been in failing health for several years but his final attack of illness dates only back to last week when he was stricken with pneumonia. He suffered throat trouble complicated with heart weakness.

Although septic pneumonia was given as the immediate cause of death, the real cause was cancer and a stroke, it was learned by International News Service this afternoon. Only the medical advisers and a few intimate friends possessed this information.

Bonar Law was forced from the British premiership last May by illness, being succeeded on May 24 by Stanley Baldwin, the present premier. The former premier's death comes as a severe blow to the Tory party and to large numbers of friends although it was not entirely unexpected. Bonar Law succeeded David Lloyd George in office under the coalition cabinet was forced out last year by the Tories.

A week ago the former premier was thought to be on the road to recovery from the constant throat trouble which ended his career of statesmanship. A chill brought about a recurrence and symptoms of pneumonia developed. It was an attack of septic pneumonia which proved fatal.

Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick, September 16, 1858, the son of Rev. James Law. His mother was a native of Glasgow. He was married in 1891 to Miss Annie Pitcairn of Glasgow, who died in 1920.

Two sons and two daughters were born to them. Bonar Law was educated in New Brunswick schools and later at Glasgow. He entered the iron trade and after amassing a fortune, decided to go into politics. He was parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade from 1902 to 1906, having been elected to the House of Commons on the Unionist ticket (Tory) from the Black Friars division of Glasgow in 1900.

In 1906, he was re-elected to parliament on the Unionist ticket from the Dulwich division of Camberwell, serving that constituency for four years. In 1911, he was again elected to commons from the Bootle division of Lancashire, representing that constituency seven years.

From 1911 until 1915, he was leader of the opposition in Commons. During part of 1915, and 1916 Bonar Law served as secretary of state for the colonies. In 1916, he became chancellor of the exchequer serving two years. In 1918 he was appointed lord of the privy seal but resigned. Bonar Law was a member of the British delegation to the Paris peace conference.

From 1911 until 1921, Bonar Law was leader of the Unionist party, finally relinquishing this post on account of ill health. He rendered valuable service to Great Britain as a member of the war cabinet.

CHARGE FORBES ATTEMPTED TO SELL NARCOTICS

Witness Makes Accusation
During Hearing of Serious Charges.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Senatorial investigators of the United States Veterans' Bureau delved into history today, in their quest for further evidence of waste, mismanagement and corruption in the conduct of the bureau.

Turning away, temporarily, from investigation of the acts of Charles R. Forbes, director of the bureau, under the Harding administration, the committee turned the spotlight today on some of the transactions negotiated in the closing days of the Wilson administration.

The deal the committee was particularly curious about, was the one in which E. L. Morse, Missouri political leader, sold the government a hospital site at Excelsior Springs, Mo., under a peculiar form of contract. The Public Health Service condemned this transaction, but notwithstanding this the purchase price was later increased $13,000.

An air of mystery was added to the case when it was revealed that some important documents concerning it, have disappeared from the government's files. The missing documents include the government's copy of the contract, written in the form of a "letter of agreement," signed by Morse and Former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ewing Le Porte, in charge of war risk insurance. Instead, investigators found a paper, purported to be signed by Morse, which showed a $13,000 variation in the purchase price originally agreed upon and the one finally written into the contract.

Testimony already before the committee shows that former Secretary of the Treasury Houston approved the deal as one of his last official acts. The negotiations, however, were carried on through Le Porte.

Morse was scheduled to take the stand today to relate his part in the transaction.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The direct charge that Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, sought an accomplice in disposing of surplus narcotic drugs and liquors was made before the senate committee investigating the veterans' bureau.

This accusation was made by James M. Williams of Philadelphia in the midst of a series of sensational disclosures purporting to involve the former director. Williams is president of Turner & West, Inc., a creamery and ice cream manufacturing concern.

Among the other allegations in his testimony were: That Forbes had threatened strong arm methods to get rid of Elias H. Mortimer, who testified before the committee last week that the former director had been guilty of graft and corruption in the letting of hospital contracts, and had told him they could "clean up" on narcotics, and that Forbes and his secretary, M. L. Sweet, and Sid Bieber, a close friend, had made several trips to Williams' home in an effort to get certain papers in possession of Mrs. Mortimer. The papers, Williams said he understood, had been turned over to Mrs. Mortimer by her husband for safekeeping and she had asked Mrs. Williams to look them up.

The proposition regarding the removal of narcotic drugs and liquors from the veterans' bureau hospital at Perryville, Md., was made, Williams testified, after an evening of continuous talk about these surplus supplies. Forbes, he said, had asked him if he could not supply milk and cream to the Perryville institution, 15 miles away, and inquired how many trucks Williams' company had. Williams testified that he replied that his concern had eight trucks, but they could not take the contract.

Forbes, the witness continued, then explained there "were a great many broken packages" at Perryville, "and I might make it interesting for you." He added that just then "the door opened and nothing further was said." Williams asserted that he had not even considered the alleged offer.

Under questioning by members of the committee the witness added that Forbes' alleged offer was to make it interesting for him in getting split packages out of the Perryville reservation.

The proposal was made, according to Williams, a day or two prior to Sept. 20, 1922. About a month previous, he said, he had heard Forbes discuss narcotics and liquors with a druggist named Hogshead at Staunton, Va., whom Williams was visiting. Mortimer last week testified to the same conversation.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. adv

COUNTRY CLUB MASQUE MONDAY LARGE SUCCESS

Probably the most enjoyable of the large list of Halloween social affairs, was the masquerade at the Country Club, Monday night. Between one hundred and one hundred and fifty guests enjoyed the function, which was outstanding in revelry among the club parties. The club rooms were beautifully decorated in the usual Halloween favors, black cats and witches predominating.

Cliff Perrine's orchestra of Dayton, furnished excellent music for the evening. Fortune-telling was among the novel features. The dancing opened with a grand march, after which the guests unmasked. Judges were stationed about the room, to choose the best costumes of the evening. Dr. P. D. Espey won the gentlemen's prize for the most effective costume, as a colonial gentleman, while Mrs. Espey carried off the women's prize, in a similar costume. Mr. P. H. Flynn as a shiek, won a men's prize for the grotesque outfit, while Mr. Findley M. Torrence carried off other honors as the men, as an exponent of the Anti-Cigarette League and distributed literature among the guests. A box over his shoulder bore the name of a local tobacco dealer. Mrs. W. Crawford Craig was another prize winner as a Spanish girl. Another clever costume which won the favor of the judges was that of Mrs. C. L. Darlington as a bride.

During the dancing, an old fashioned two-step was held, won by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, who were presented a prize. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Davidson won the prize in the old-fashioned waltz. A Halloween supper was served at a late hour. The committee in charge of the masque, headed by Mrs. R. J. Kelly, consisted of Mrs. John Charles Dadds, Mrs. Robert Arthur Kelly, Mrs. Edwin M. Woodward, Mrs. W. H. Finley, Mrs. Lawrence Shields, Mrs. Paul D. Espey, Mrs. Minor W. Monroe, Mrs. William E. Eavey, Mrs. E. R. Bryant, Mrs. L. A. Parrett, Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Karl Bloom and Mrs. Charles Adair.

OUR COUNTRY ALWAYS

American form of government is recognized throughout the world as the most humanitarian, most stable and most effective of all forms.

No real cause for unrest or discontent exists. Industry is thriving at peak load and payrolls are being steadily maintained. Labor and capital in America are nearly at balance.

Americans are not blind to the ills of European nations where famine and internal strife are preventing the orderly conduct of affairs and where such conditions prevent a well balanced return to prewar prosperity.

Americans will not brook the destructive forces from without to enter Our Country with pink and red propaganda designed to disrupt the nation and turn its affairs over to an element which knows no law—either of man or God—and destroy the initiative of a hundred and ten millions of souls.

No socialistic or communistic doctrine can successfully endure in any nation and this has been recognized in America for more than a century of orderly administration.

There is no place here for the forces of destruction.

PLEASANT READING

It is pleasant reading for us to see in the columns of the Democratic press of the state that there is a balance in the state treasury of Ohio at his time of between twenty-five to thirty million dollars.

It is especially pleasant because no one can deny that the large balance, as it exists today, constantly growing, is due to the reorganization plan of ex-Governor Harry L. Davis, the present Democratic governor's predecessor. It was at Governor Davis' instance that the Legislature passed the bill to reorganize the state business machinery and put it upon business foundation. That was bitterly fought by the Democratic politicians and the Democratic newspapers. And memory does not have to go back very far to recall some especially interesting editorial comments attacking the Davis plan of state government.

Happily for Ohio that plan has worked better than was anticipated by its makers and Ohio is operating within her means upon a budget basis since the reorganization bill became effective for the first time in her history.

OH. FOR THE WISEST OF WISE MEN JUST NOW.

It seems providential that when the world is most upset in trouble, a wise man will arise on the scene and give such advice that in following it the clouds of darkness break away and the path of common sense appears.

It was a case in Europe when Gladstone reiterated his theory that troublesome Ireland should have "Home Rule" year after year he enunciated the wisdom of giving to this branch of his country's possessions that feature which had looked so well in their other provinces. True, the whole advantage of the wisdom of his advice did not fructify to full "public opinion" during Gladstone's life, but today the very same principle seems in full swing to give to that unstable people the most common sense they have ever manifested. Though long since gathered to the grave, the wisdom and advice of Gladstone lives.

And far be it from us to deny to Woodrow Wilson if our own beloved country the honor of the conception of the "Sixteen Pointers" which we credited with having so much to do with ending the Great War which was taking the brave young sons of ours and other nations.

All honors to Woodrow Wilson for this.

And ah, now little thought the people who lived near the cabin in Kentucky where the child Abraham Lincoln as born, that this babe was to be the savior of his country, that a stroke of his pen would make four million slaves freed-men, that from his lips would come such immortal words as his Gettysburg speech that soon millions of people would thank God for his life. Was he not God-imbued and God-raised for his great work?

And now with half the world in turmoil and no one seemingly able to speak the words to help, if our own citizen our National Secretary of State, Charles E. Hughes, has been able to suggest a possible start to bring out of disorder in Europe, we certainly will all thank God for his accomplishment, and in event of failure to the attempt.

Genius is entitled to respect only when it promotes peace and improves the happiness of mankind.

BETTER THAN GOLD

Happiness cannot be bought. A rich man can buy a beautiful reproduction, as the artist sees some phase of nature, but all the wealth in the world could not buy one golden sunset.

We often envy the fortune of the well-to-do. But their only fortune, in its final analysis, is what they have gained in happiness. You who have but the price of one meal ahead may be far richer.

Even success is relative. We win mostly within ourselves.

A beautiful spirit, glowing with thoughtfulness and unselfishness, is more glorious than the most gorgeously colored opal—and beyond all purchase.

The lovely things of the earth are free. Merely appreciate, and you have.

Put but a single flower in a vase upon your desk or table, look into its warmth of beauty and you have something that gold could never give. For a flower has soul, surely or it could not arouse the soul in us. You couldn't think unkindly when looking into the face of a pansy! Let your life be stripped of precious possessions, let chaos flare about you, let ruin and dire disaster haunt you on every side, yet, if there remain to you but one loyal, true-blue friend you have better than gold or any of its equivalents.

Beauty is better than gold, kindness is better than gold, happy service is beyond all touch of gold. Gold never bought a human soul.

GRAPES ROTTING ON VINES; NO MARKET

Sandusky, O., Oct. 30.—Tons of choicest grapes are going to waste in the vast vineyards of the Lake Erie islands region northwest of here, rotting on the vines as a result, growers say, of the lack of a market that will yield even the cost of production. Other tons have been pressed for their juice which is being held in huge casks, the owners hoping that at some future time they will be able to at least "come out even," as they say. From a financial viewpoint the harvest ending has been the most gigantic failure in the history of the grape-growing industry of the whole Lake Erie section. Growers here have been unable to compete with sweeter California grapes now flooding the eastern markets.

CEDARVILLE STUDENTS HOLD FROLIC FRIDAY

The Sophomore and Junior classes of Cedarville High School were delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Gladys Beatty, Friday evening.

The house was decorated in the usual Halloween colors. The guests came masked, which added to the amusement of the evening. Those who did not mask were conducted to an upstairs room where they received a face-washing by two masked figures.

Music and games were enjoyed followed by a refreshment course of pumpkin pie, ginger bread, apples and cider. Mrs. Anna Wilson acted as chaperone.

MERCHANT SLAIN

Columbiana, O., Oct. 30.—Julius Soldina, 48, a business man, was murdered by two men who called him from his home. Four shots were fired into his back. Three men gave police the only clues. They said they saw Soldina and one man walking from his home when a second man appeared. Soldina turned to run and they opened fire. Coroner Arch Bell believes the murder to be a gangster plot.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to every one."—Mrs. J. J. "Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 3227 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

RED RASH BROKE OUT ON FACE
Was Very Itchy. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Heals.
"A red rash broke out on my face and was very itchy. The more I scratched it the more it seemed to spread. I could not sleep nights as the irritation made me very restless, and my face looked horrid. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I found that the rash was drying up and disappearing so purchased more, which healed me." bonds, which usually sell for higher prices than equally safe bonds that do not carry the conversion privilege.

An example of this class is the Anaconda Mining Company—fifteen year seven per cent debentures of 1938 which are convertible into common stock. Because of this feature the bonds are more attractive and sell at a higher price than equally good non-convertible issues.

But there is no reason for anyone who is looking extra for the convertibility feature on these 7's. Buy the first mortgage 6's of the same company and pay only for what you want no more.

ANGER KILLS CHILD

Mimra, N. Y., Oct. 30.—A demonstration of how anger may produce death occurred here when Morrow Wilsey, 3 years old, dropped dead in a rage just after he had been spanked. Physicians say death was due to acute dilation of the heart caused by the child's indignation. Morrow's father paddled him in an effort to curb the boy's violent spells of temper.

LOCAL AND STATE ISSUES TO COME BEFORE ELECTORS

When Xenia City voters walk into the polls to exercise their rights as citizens Tuesday, November 6, they will be handed seven different ballots to mark.

If they should happen to live in Greene County outside of Xenia City, but not in the school districts of Yellow Springs Village, Jamestown Village or Jefferson Twp., they will be given six ballots. In those three school districts the voters will also have to mark seven ballots.

State issues to be voted on all over the county include three proposed constitutional amendments and three proposed laws, two of them by referendum and one by initiative. The amendments include one to do away with the open ballot feature of the workmen's compensation law, which permits injured employees entitled to benefits from the state fund, to sue for damages. Employers' associations and labor organizations have both endorsed this change in the law.

Another amendment seeks to eliminate the words "white male" from the section of the state constitution prescribing the qualification of an elector. The enfranchisement of colored people and the granting of suffrage to women by federal authority supercedes this ancient restriction and make its retention in the Ohio constitution an anachronism and absurdity of no effect whatever. The third amendment would permit the secretary of state to advertise through the regular channels measures to be submitted to the electorate, instead of circulating "publicity pamphlets."

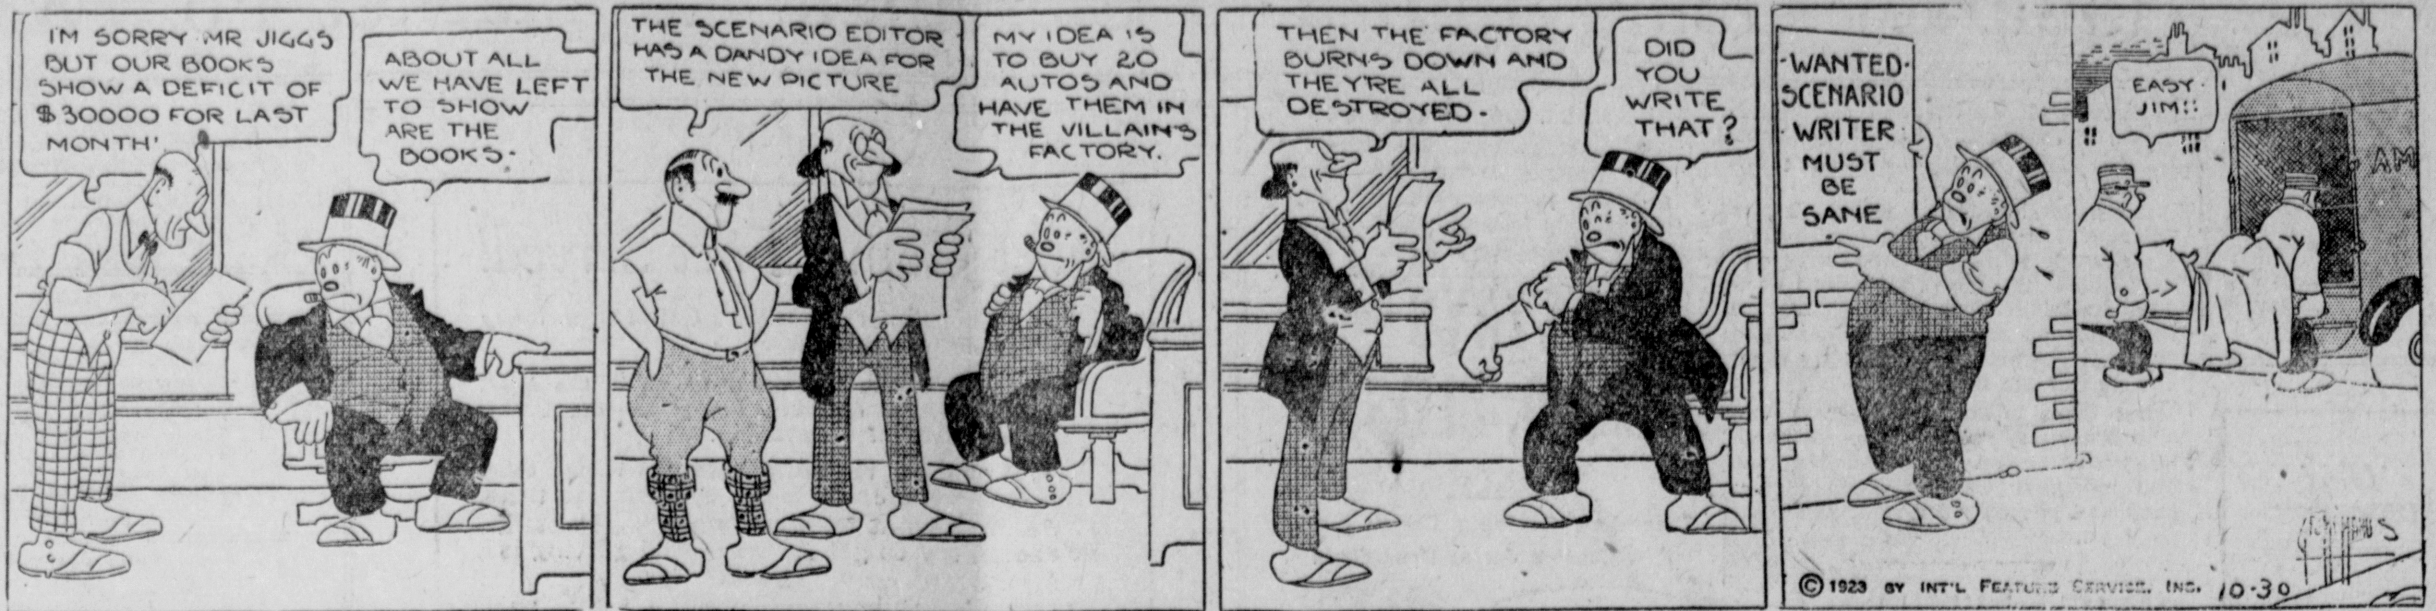

The Taft and Albaugh tax laws are up for referendum. The old age pension law, providing a pension for those over 65 years of age having less than $2,500, will be voted on.

In Xenia City the voters will be presented a ballot on which they will vote yes or no on an amendment to the city charter, the first ever proposed. The amendment, if passed, will eliminate the primary election now held unless the number of declared candidates is more than twice the number of vacancies to be filled on the City Commission. It is advocated as a means of reducing expense.

Voters in Xenia City must also select three city commissioners, two for a long term and one for the unexpired term of the late Mayor M. J. Hartley. S. M. McKay, at present serving Mayor Hartley's term is unopposed for the rest of the short term. Commissioner Harry Fisher and Dr. C. G. McPherson, also a commissioner, are seeking re-election for the regular long term of four years. They are opposed by Harry Sparks, also running for long term.

There are three places to fill on the Xenia City Board of Education, and there are seven candidates to be voted upon for those offices. Harry S. LeSourd and J. W. Santmyer are seeking re-election to the board, while C. H. Little, is not a

THE HOPE THAT SPRINGS ETERNAL Chapter LXVII

George Markham placed Paul's articles with a prosperous syndicate, making a very good contract. I was more than delighted. While I knew they had merit, were clever and interesting, I had no idea they would bring in so much. It was a living for us, added to the excess of our home rent over what we paid.

When I told Paul and showed him the contract signed by George Markham as his attorney and told him what the editor had said in praise of his work he just crumpled up and cried like a baby.

"It doesn't seem true, Ruby," he said when he became calm. "I don't deserve such luck. If only Joan could know!"

"She does, dear. She believed her going would help you." Then I told him of the study Laura and I had fixed up for him in our new home, a tiny room upstairs where he could have perfect quiet in which to write. "It won't be long now until you are with us," I added, "and we must not be sorrowful for Laura's sake. You will do even better work under the stimulus you have received."

I was right. Each week Paul's work improved. My old pride in him returned and felt no uneasiness in facing the future. Paul was a changed man, not only outwardly (his hair had grown gray, and there were fine lines in his face not there before his arrest) but the inward change was even greater. He was humbled. All his false pride was gone, all his egotism. George Markham visited him often encouraging him in every way, and proving his wish to be friendly, while Evelyn was often with me helping me by her belief in Paul's comeback.

When I thought of how I had flouted the advice of these two dear people, I felt ashamed, remorseful. Who was I, with my lack of knowledge of the world to set their well-meant advice aside? I had married too young, insisting upon having my own way, thinking I knew more than my parents and had reaped the result of my obstinacy—not that even now I regretted marrying Paul. I never had ceased to love him. But had I made him wait for me, prove himself, I might have saved both him and myself years of agony.

Stubborn, unthinking youth, reaching out its hands for its present desires, diluting the advice of those of experience pays and pays and pays.

One morning the paper held black headlines.

Dave Logan had been killed in a wild ride with a well-known woman of the town. He had been drinking and drove his car off an embankment. Then followed the story of his life, a story of immense wealth quickly made, of riotous living, of entanglements. Again I felt humbled. This was the man whom I had made my friend despite the warnings I received, despite my own distrust of him.

My mistakes had been many, my humiliation great. But now I, too, like Paul, was humbled. My sorrows, my great troubles had given me a different viewpoint and made me realize that in many ways I had been as culpable as Paul. I had not insisted upon my right as a wife to know of his affairs, had been too weak to be a helpmeet to the man I married. But the past was over and done with. The future belonged to us, to make of it what we would in honesty of purpose, in perfect confidence, in hope.

It is June 1923. Paul is with us. Every day he spends hours working in the little studio Laura and I prepared for him. He is quietly, but, I try to think, not unhappily, retrieving the past. He seems to have lost all desire for money as money, and to think only of accomplishment, of making me and Laura comfortable, and as happy as we can be with thoughts of our lost Joan ever with us.

But Time is a kind healer. Daily we are growing more reconciled and now we plan for Laura, the child who never has been anything but a comfort, who has borne our sorrows, been the sharer of our troubles. And as I see the daily strengthening of Paul's character the feeling that some day people will forget and forgive comes over me. And I know that in some way, some how we shall achieve that elusive thing—Happiness. For at last there is perfect confidence between us, perfect faith and trust. And without this there is no happiness in marriage.

THE END

Note:—The foregoing is a true story in every important detail as told me by the 'wife'. Naturally, the names of character and places are changed.—Jane Phelps.
